Dan Fazio Wins 2011 Harry O'Hare Award

January 9, 2012. JOH is proud to announce that Dan Fazio, Account Executive, Headquarter Sales - Non Foods Division, has been awarded the prestigious Harry O'Hare Award for 2011.

The honor is presented to the person who most personifies the values and qualities that marked the life and career of Harry O'Hare. Hard work, integrity, passion, a positive attitude and team spirit are all part of Mr. O'Hare's personal and professional legacy.

Dan has been an employee of JOH since 1997 and exemplifies these attributes in his role as an account executive. "He strives for perfection and is responsive to the need of others, even if it means interrupting his own work or committing himself to late nights to meet the objective," said Kevin Tassinari, Executive Vice President of Non Foods.

"We are very lucky to have Dan. The word 'no' is not in his vocabulary and he is consistently providing suggestions and solutions. His impact on JOH cannot be measured day to day and we thank him for all of his hard work, passion and dedication," said John Saidnawey, COO and President.
