JOH's Kids 360 Team Raises Money and Rides in the Pan-Mass Challenge

August 21, 2018 - Billerica, MA - JOH's Kids 360 Cycle Team joined 6,341 bicyclists in the 39th Annual Pan-Mass Challenge. The team finished the two-day, 192-mile annual charity bike ride that crossed the Commonwealth of Massachusetts raising over $60,000 for the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute (DFCI). Since 2011, the team has raised over $280,000 for DFCI.

“The outpouring of support we received while raising money for this great cause has been incredible,” said John Saidnawey, JOH Chairman & CEO. “We were overjoyed to welcome new riders to the Kids 360 team this year! For our 2019 team, we are on the lookout for additional industry friends to join us and help raise more money for life-saving cancer research and treatment at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute!”

JOH's Kids 360 is a non-profit charity that takes a 360-degree approach to a child's life. Whether it is providing clothes, food, toys, medical support or school supplies, the monies raised go directly to carefully selected children's charities.
